W. D. Grant Improving

According to word received in the last mail, Marshal Grant is improving rapidly at St. Mary's hospital, San Francisco, from wounds on the head and face at the hands of San Francisco thugs.

In speaking of the incident a paper in that city said, W. D. Grant an Alaskan businessman, who was found unconscious in a pool of water at Front and East streets is at St. Mary's hospital. Thus far he has made no statement, but it is the theory of the police that he was beaten and robbed by thugs and then left to die. When found, he was still unconscious. His hat and coat had both disappeared, and his

A Delicate Operation

Dr. Dawes performed a delicate operation Monday afternoon when he removed a cataract from the eye of blind Tom, a native. Tom has been blind for a number of years, but Dr. Dawes is sanguine of success.

pockets were empty save for a membership band of the Elks' lodge at Juneau, Alaska.

The corner of East and Front streets is on the waterfront near the Pacific Steamship company's dock, and the probabilities are that Mr. Grant was down there awaiting the arrival of a steamer from the north.

At last it begins to look as though there is a possibility of the townsite tangle being straightened out.

In a recent mail Townsite Trustee Inman was in receipt of a letter from the Commissioner of Public lands authorizing him to make the offer to settle the claims of the surveyors of the townsite for $5,000.

This amount must cover all the expenses in-so-far as the surveyors themselves are concerned--salaries, board and room. The engineers' bill, according to their own way of figuring it was, Salaries, $9,155.75; board etc., $1413.55, a total of $10,569.30. The cut suggested by the department is a big one, but will meet with the general approval of 98 per cent of the people of the town.

The Whitfields are given 60 days in which to either accept or reject the offer, at the end of which time a hearing will be had in Washington.

It is not known how this settlement would be handled, as more than this much has been paid out already to the Whitfields here in town. The probabilities are, however that settlement would be made on a pro rata basis, as that is the only fair way to all concerned.

It is to be hoped that the department will keep on the job until the matter is settled one way or the other, as nothing can be gained by procrastination. Justice to all concerned makes it imperative that the thing be brought to a finish of some kind. The delay is having a bad effect upon the town. The Whitfields either did or did not earn the money for which they are asking. If they did, which this paper doubts, then let them get their money. If on the other hand they did not, then let them be settled with on some fair, equitable basis, the slate wiped clean, and the incident forgotten.

The worse blizzard of the winter struck Nome on the third of the month.

The term of imprisonment of Ed Hasey, who was convicted of assault with a dangerous weapon in the Keystone valley fight, expired last month.

Humboldt Brings Big Cargo

The steamer Humboldt is back on the run again, arriving north-bound, Saturday morning. She carried a goodly passenger list, and practically every pound of cargo she had room for. Among the latter was over two hundred tons for Douglas alone. The steamer has been thoroughly overhauled and is in first rate condition to take care of the coming season's business.

A Nome paper still insists that there are 2000 people in that town.

Freight for the foot of the lake is beginning to arrive at Whitehorse.

Mill To Start Monday

Present plans of the management call for the starting of the local sawmill next Monday. The days are now long enough for a full days work being done, so in case the weather doesn't change its mind, the whistle will sound and the wheels start to revolve Monday. The first work of course will be to get out the timbers for the new wharf, and work on it will then begin in earnest.

Collector of Customs Willis, who was a passenger on the Cottage City when she was wrecked, was also a passenger on the Victoria at the time she too struck on Cape Mudge.

The eighteenth annual statement of the Alaska Packers' Association recently received, contains the following information relative to that company: The capitalization of the company is $7,500,000, divided into 75,000 shares of stock at a par value of $100 each. The present issue is 57,508 shares, leaving 17,492 shares in the treasury of the company. The association carries its own insurance on buildings, wharves, machinery, equipment, furniture and on the product in the process of manufacture, also on all floating property and on cargoes of supplies, box shooks, lumber and coal. All up and down cargoes are insured at market values, and salmon and merchandise stored in warehouses in San Francisco at about half their values. The insurance fund earned $270,148.19 for 1910.

The Association operated fourteen canneries in Alaska and one on Puget Sound during the year, putting up 39,960 cases of sockeye salmon, 662,718 reds, 17,895 kings, 35,097 cohoes, 157,607 pinks, and 57,439 chums, besides 4,083 barrels of salt salmon.

In the course of the year $170,125.18 was spent for repairs, and $190,076 for improvements and additions to the plants. $107,387.61 was written off from plants for depreciation, making the appraised valuation of the plants January 1, 1911, $4,310,625.

The company's fleet, consisting of nine ships, eleven barks, one barkentine, two schooners, besides fifty-nine steamers and launches, a total of eighty-two vessels all told, is appraised at $1,485,000.

The profits for the year were $517,009.16, during which quarterly dividends of $1.50 per share were paid.

Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary, (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. On the old foundation a new superstructure has been built. The reconstruction has been carried on through many years by a large force of trained workers, under the supervision of Dr. W. T. Harris, former United States Commissioner of Education, and reinforced by many eminent specialists. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparing scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.
